Artist Statement for Words Move, Music Moves - At the Still Point of the Turning World, performed during the 8:30 pm program segment:

I worked with Shane [Guffogg] to explore his synesthesia, mapping out how each color in his painting relates to specific harmonies and pitches. We then used AI to analyze the paintings, showing how each color overlaps and intersects, rendering a huge list of the harmonies in various orders. I took inspiration from this, the painting itself, the poem the painting is inspired by, and the music Shane listened to while painting to compose pieces of music based on each painting.—Anthony Cardella

Sleeping peacefully, the animals rest with gentle snores.

Dare to take a closer look?

But shhh... approach quietly. They might just wake up and peek at you!
